

UPDATE HOLDING STATEMENT

Collision Vox Maxima with bunker vessel

Saturday 15 June 2024

On Friday 14th of June 2024, a collision occurred between Vox Maxima and a bunker vessel, the Marine Honour, which was moored alongside a container vessel berthed at the Pasir Panjang Terminal in Singapore.

Maritime and Port Authority of Singapore (MPA) have informed us that both vessels are currently anchored safely, are in stable condition, with some damage above the waterline. There are no personal injuries reported. Oil from the damaged cargo tank on board the Marine Honour has spilled into the water. The affected cargo tank has been isolated and the spill contained. Clean-up operations for the oil spill resulting from the collision are ongoing.

We are cooperating with the investigations by the authorities. As long as investigations are ongoing, we can't provide any further substantive information in the interests of the investigations.

Media statements MPA:

- Oil Spill Clean-up in Progress at Pasir Panjang Terminal
- Update: Oil Spill Clean-up Operations in Progress
- Joint Media Statement: Joint Oil Spill Clean-up Operations Ongoing
- Joint Statement - Progress of Joint Oil Spill Clean-up Operations